VOL. XV., No. 17.

NEW YORK, April 26, 1879.

WHOLE No. 380.

Appletons' New Handy-Volume Series.

CHOICE, CONVENIENT, TASTEFUL, CHEAP.

RECENT ISSUES.

I. The Great Italian and French Composers.

By GEORGE T. FERRIS, author of "The Great German Composers." Paper, 30 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

Contents: PALESTRINA; PICCINI, PAISIELLO; and CIMAROSA; ROSSINI; DONIZETTI and BELLINI; VERDI; CHERUBINI and his Predecessors; MÉHUL, SPONTINI, and HALÉVY; BOIELDIEU and AUBER; MEYERBEER; GOUNOD.

Uniform with the above, "THE GREAT GERMAN COMPOSERS:" new edition; paper, 30 cents; cloth, 60 cents. Contents: BACH, HANDEL, GLUCK, HAYDN, MOZART, BEETHOVEN, SCHUBERT, SCHUMANN, FRANZ, CHOPIN, WEBER, MENDELSSOHN, and WAGNER.

II. Thomas Carlyle;

His Life—his Books—his Theories. By ALFRED H. GUERNSEY. Paper cover, price, 30 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

"One of the most enjoyable little books that we have lately happened to hit upon. . . . So entertaining that many readers will read through the two hundred prettily printed pages before they will be disposed to lay the book down. It is a very sympathetic and appreciative, a very just and careful study of Carlyle, as a man, a talker, and a writer, in brief as a social and literary force."—Boston Journal.

III. Fairy-Tales;

Their Origin and Meaning. With some Account of Dwellers in Fairyland. By JOHN THACKRAY BUNCE. Paper cover, price, 25 cents.

"One of the most entertaining additions to the 'Handy-Volume Series.'"—Boston Courier.

"A very charming piece of reading. It is very pleasantly written, and it contains just enough to show the connection between and origin of fairy stories."—New York World.

"It is a bright book in every way, and so charmingly constructed as to excite the attention of the student, as well as that of the mere superficial reader."—New York Express.

IV. "The Multitudinous Seas."

With Illustrations. By S. G. W. BENJAMIN. Paper, price, 25 cents.

"The Multitudinous Seas" is an eminently picturesque description of the ocean, with all its atmospheric phenomena, its aspects under calms and in storms, its strange currents and ever-changing surface, making a story as dramatic and stirring as a romance.

V. The Disturbing Element.

A Tale. By CHARLOTTE M. YONGE, author of "The Heir of Redclyffe." Paper, price, 30 cents.

"It is a very bright and readable account of the doings of the Blue-bell Society of young ladies for mutual improvement; very delightful and original young ladies they are, and bent upon doing something for their minds, and 'getting themselves up' to pass the Edinburgh examinations. How the scheme succeeded, the reader will learn, and be much amused in the process; perhaps the plan might have come to something but for the 'Disturbing Element,' which it is impossible to legislate or frighten out of society."—Hartford Courant.

VI. A Thorough Bohemienne.

A Tale. By Madame CHARLES REYBAUD, author of "The Goldsmith's Wife," etc. Paper, price, 30 cents.

"This is a clever story from the French, with all the spirit, the rapidity and clearness of narration, the firmness and precision of touch in character-drawing, the ease of manner and sense of mastery of materials and style, that make a really good French novel so fascinating."—Worcester Spy.

APPLETONS' NEW HANDY-VOLUME SERIES is in handsome 18mo volumes, in large type, of a size convenient for the pocket, or suitable for the library-shelf, bound in paper covers.

A selection of the Handy Volumes is now appearing in tasteful cloth binding, price, 60 cents each.

JUST PUBLISHED!

Wanderings in Patagonia;

Or, Life among the Ostrich Hunters. By JULIUS BEERBOHM. 16mo (Leisure Hour Series), $1. - Of which

The New York Evening Post says: "If there were not a word of truth in it . . . it would deserve the widest possible popularity. The book has as much interest as any novel of adventure. . . . To this it adds all the charm of a veracious record of travel which it is, and travel through a strange land and among strange people. The story is told with admirable directness and force."

The London Academy says: "An amusing book, and for those who have never read any account of that strange country, Wanderings in Patagonia will be interesting from the first page to the last."

Taine's English Literature.

NEW AND CHEAPER EDITION. Large 12mo. 1100 pages, LONG PRIMER TYPE, handsomely bound in cloth, with ink and gold stamping.

HENRY HOLT & CO., New York.

THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE.

VOL. I.: AUTHORS AND TITLES; PARTS I. AND II. A—LENOX.

The second part of the main volume of the American Catalogue is now ready for delivery.

This part covers 200 large quarto pages, and includes over 16,000 entries by author or title.

This long-desired Finding List, by which any book in the market can at once be traced, will be found a necessity in the smallest establishment—saving its cost in sales and labor in a few months. It gives a complete alphabetical index not only to the Trade List Annual, but to the catalogues of over nine hundred publishers and importers.

Price of the Catalogue complete, including second (subject) volume, $25. Subscribers are required to deposit $5 guarantee; the first volume will then be delivered in four parts, at $2.50 each, making $15 for the main volume of the work. If the guarantee is not deposited, the charge will be $4 per part, or $16 for the volume. Covers for binding will be furnished to subscribers on completion of the volume without further charge.

Prospectus, with sample pages, will be sent on application, and friends of the enterprise are requested to forward addresses of possible subscribers.

NOTES IN SEASON.

REV. DR. LYMAN ABBOTT'S "Commentary on the Gospel of St. John" will be published by A. S. Barnes & Co. on Tuesday, April 22d. This is likely to prove one of the most popular commentaries on the Fourth Gospel yet put forward.

HENRY HOLT & Co. have just ready their competition $1.25 edition of Taine,—a marvel of cheapness, from the regular long-primer type (over 1000 pages), and in very attractive cloth binding; also Beerbohm's "Wanderings in Patagonia" in the Leisure Hour series, with a map and a couple of illustrations—another cheap book, and a narrative of travel and adventure in a fresh field, at once informing and thrillingly entertaining.

R. WORTHINGTON calls attention to the fact that the complete Tennysons issued by him include the laureate's very latest poems, but just published in the English periodicals,—"The Revenge," and "The Defence of Lucknow," with the dedicatory poem to the Princess Alice. This is a capital piece of enterprise. These are the Lansdowne editions, red line at $1.25, others at $1.50 and $1, and the same in Chandos Classics style at the astonishingly low price of 50 cents.

SCRIBNER & WELFORD have just in a new volume of the admirable South Kensington Art Handbooks, viz., on "Gold and Silver Smith's Work," prepared by John Hungerford Pollen, M.A., a work that will be interesting to many collectors; also a new Bohn volume, one of the new translation of Lessing's works, by E. L. Beasley and Helen Zimmern, containing in compact shape the "Laokoon," "How the Ancients represented Death," and "Dramatic Notes."

ROBERT CARTER & BROS. will have ready Miss Susan Warner's new novel, "My Desire," about the second week in May. It is of what the playwrights call "contemporaneous interest," and is said to recall the strength of her earliest books. It is entirely independent of any previous stories, and no sequel is contemplated. Miss Anna Warner, the other sister, has completed a pleasant book telling the story of some indoor gardening, under the curious title of "The Blue Flag and the Cloth of Gold," but this will not be issued until fall.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have about ready the volume of vers de société, "Briefs of a Barrister," by Mr. E. R. Johns, of New York City; "Puritan and Quaker," by R. G. B., who gives a vivid picture of old Puritan times; the volume of practical hints on "Emergencies and how to meet them," "Neurological Contributions" by Dr. W. A. Hammond, which is planned to be issued as a serial with about 4 volumes a year; "A Reading Book for English Classics," by Rev. C. W. Leffingwell, designed to provide young readers with an attractive introduction to sound literature; and the first number of the new medical periodical entitled "Archives of Ophthalmology."

PORTER & COATES have just published new editions of Moore's Poetical Works, Youatt and Skinner on the Horse, and Watson's "Dictionary of Poetical Quotations." "The Mail Carrier," by Harry Castlemon, just published, completes the Boy Trapper Series, consisting of three volumes: 1, "The Buried Treasure;" 2, "The Boy Trapper;" 3, "The Mail Carrier." They also have in preparation a new edition of Shakespeare, which it is promised will have the clearest type of any one-volume edition published. A new edition of "Famous Horses of America," fully illustrated and brought down to the present time, will soon be issued.

BICKNELL & COMSTOCK have just ready the book of Ames' Alphabets, which presents in 32 large plates a remarkable variety of alphabet designs, a very necessary tool for engravers, draughtsmen, sign-painters, and others. It is at the low price of $1.50. Cameron's "Plasterer's Manual," with illustrations of tools, etc., is a comprehensive guide in a trade hitherto without such a book; and especial attention should be called to the "New Carpenter's and Builder's Assistant and Wood Worker's Guide," revised and enlarged, including a large number of practical tables, miscellaneous rules, and a glossary of terms used in building, by Lucius D. Gould. The important practical work by Geo. T. Powell and Frederick Bauman, architects, on "Foundations and Foundation Walls," pile-driving, building-stones and bricks, etc., with annotated extracts from the New York building laws, will be ready the first of June.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rules of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The notes followed by a number are those which are sent out on printed title-slips, as revised by the Library Association authorities; unless bracketed, which means that they have not yet been so revised. Those not followed by a number are on the sole authority of the WEEKLY, and are not included in the title-slip registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: Daniel; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Pl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

Adams, W. H. Davenport. The secret of success; or, how to get on in the world; with remarks upon true and false success, and art of making best use of life: Amer. ed., ed. by P. G. H. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1879. 10 + 389 p. D. cl., $1.50.

STATE TEXT-BOOKS AGAIN.

THE text-book bill, which we reprint in full elsewhere, passed the New York State Senate on Monday of this week with only three negative votes. In commenting on this bill, passed with such extraordinary unanimity, the Evening Post says:

"While a frequent change of school text-books is an evil against which complaint is often justly made, it is questionable whether or not this bill furnishes the best remedy. In the first place, it will entail great expense by requiring the introduction of an entirely new set of books in almost all parts of the state. The books in use are the result of great competition, and entirely new ones will run a great risk of being inferior to them. But, as the present books are protected by copyright, the books proposed would have to be prepared from original sources, unless the publishers of some of those now in use should obtain the contract, and even with the supervision of the state Superintendent there will be great danger that the books chosen will after trial be found unsatisfactory. We see no reason why the proposed object of this bill—stability—may not be secured simply by providing that when the school authorities of a district have selected their text-books these books shall not be changed oftener than once in five years, and then only with the consent of the Superintendent of Public Instruction."

This puts the sensible view of the case—and the publishers' view as well as the public's—in a nutshell. The possibility of capturing the entire state may be a fascinating temptation to a school-book publisher, or to one ambitious of that distinction, but the bill, if it should become a law, would introduce a system equally disastrous to the makers and to the users of school-books.

We reprint, in this connection, the extract from the Educational Weekly (Chicago) for the especial purpose of calling attention to the popular view of school-book publishing which is here not unfairly represented. (Since then, this journal has practically "taken it all back" in a second editorial article.) Much of what it says is so far from the mark as to be amusing, but the representation of public feeling and the remarks on the future of educational publishing, under the present reckless system of agency expenditures, are scarcely exaggerated. The educational publishers are themselves responsible for the idea that the business is one of outrageous profits, by the abominations of the agency system. As a matter of fact, taking the business together, it is probable that such expenditures last year absorbed the entire profits of the school-book publishers. The current tendency to extreme and mistaken legislation and the present public prejudice can be met only by such steps on the part of leading educational publishers as will bring about a more sensible method of doing business and so assure a future for this branch of the trade.

THIS is the age of improvements. The telephone being now an established institution, the next is the pneumatic tube for private express service. Such a tube is now in process of construction along Printing House Square, New York, connecting the Herald, Staats Zeitung, and the intermediate daily newspaper offices.

As this is the season of removals, we would ask those in the trade who have moved or are about to move to send us their new addresses, with a view to making a reference-list.

BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the Board, held at 25 Bond Street, Wednesday evening, April 24th, the following notification was ordered made:

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, }
NEW YORK, April 24, 1879. }

A special meeting of this Association will be held at the Trade-Sale Rooms of Messrs. Geo. A. Leavitt & Co., Clinton Hall, New York, on Thursday, May 1st, 1879, at 8 p.m.

The Constitution as amended by the Board of Trustees will be submitted to the Association for final action thereon.

A full attendance of all the members is respectfully requested.

THE [NEW YORK STATE TEXT-BOOK BILL.

THE following is the New York text-book bill, as reported by the Senate Committee. It passed the Senate Monday, April 22d, with but three negative votes.

SECTION 1. The comptroller, treasurer, and superintendent of public instruction of the State of New York are hereby authorized and directed as a board to advertise for proposals, and to enter into, let, and award a contract to the bidder, who, after giving good and sufficient bond, in the penal sum of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, for the full and faithful performance of such contract, shall offer and agree to sell to all persons within this State at the lowest price at all times for a term of fifteen years the following text-books, provided that such books shall not be sold at a greater price than stated below: speller, not to exceed fifteen cents; first reader, not to exceed ten cents; second reader, not to exceed twenty cents; third reader, not to exceed thirty cents; fourth reader, not to exceed forty cents; first grammar, not to exceed twenty-five cents; practical grammar, not to exceed fifty cents; first arithmetic, not to exceed twelve cents; second arithmetic, not to exceed twenty-five cents; third arithmetic, not to exceed fifty cents; first geography, not to exceed fifty cents; second geography, not to exceed eighty cents; book of history, not to exceed one dollar and fifty cents.

SEC. 2. Said contract shall also provide that the books aforesaid shall be equal in size and quality, as to matter and material, to the following text-books now in general use, to wit: The speller to Parker & Watson's national speller; the first, second, third, and fourth readers, equal to Harvey's first, second, third, and fourth readers; the first and second grammars, equal to Clark's brief grammar, and Clark's practical grammar; the three books of arithmetic, equal to Robinson's primary, intellectual, and practical arithmetic; the two books of geography, equal to Cornell's primary and intermediate geography; the one book of history, equal to Barnes' brief history. The quality in matter and material of said books shall be determined by the superintendent of public instruction.

SEC. 3. Said contract shall also provide that books shall be delivered to the express office or freight office in this State where the contractor shall be doing business, packed and directed at the prices named in the contract, and not exceeding those designated in the first section of this act, and that orders for books from trustees of school districts shall be given preference as to time in filling orders, over orders of dealers or other persons.

SEC. 4. The text of all the books enumerated in such contract shall be subject, not oftener than once in each period of five years, to such revision and alteration as the superintendent of public instruction shall direct.

SEC. 5. When a sufficient number of the text-books herein provided for are ready for sale, the superintendent shall issue an order declaring such text-books to be the regularly adopted text-books for the public schools of the State, and shall give such time as he shall deem proper for the substitution of the books herein provided for for the books then in use, and he shall transmit a printed copy of his order to the trustee or trustees of every school district, and the board of education of every union free school district in the state, by sending sufficient copies to school commissioners, who shall transmit them to the town clerks by whom they shall be transmitted to the trustees and boards of education. After the expiration of the time designated in the order of the superintendent, any trustee or member of a board of education who shall permit the habitual use in the school or schools under or partly under his charge, of any reading book, speller, grammar, arithmetic, geography, or history other than those directed to be used by the order of the superintendent, without the special permission of the superintendent, shall thereby become liable to removal from office, and it shall be the duty of the superintendent to so remove such offending trustee or member of a board of education.

SEC. 6. In case said contractor, his personal representatives or assigns, shall at any time fail to fulfil any of the terms of said contract on his part to be observed, the entire penal sum thereof shall at once become due and owing to the state, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to cause suit to be instituted in the name of the state, to enforce the liability on the bond aforesaid of the principal and sureties thereon; and the board provided for by section 1 of this act are hereby empowered, in case of such failure, to annul and set aside said contract and to again, and with full power, force, and effect, advertise and award as provided for by sections 1, 2, and 3 of this act.

SEC. 7. The inhabitants of any district, at an annual or special meeting thereof, may authorize the trustee or trustees to purchase direct from the contractor, for the use of the school or schools of such district, sufficient of said books for all the pupils, and may vote a tax to pay for the same and for the transportation thereof.

SEC. 8. But this act shall not be construed to prevent pupils who have advanced beyond the studies embraced in said books from using other books, and this act shall not be obligatory upon boards of education acting under special charters.

SEC. 9. This act shall take effect immediately.

A LIVELY VIEW OF STATE TEXT-BOOKS

From the Educational Weekly (Chicago).

IT may be said that it will be difficult for a commission to compile these text-books, that the talent may be wanting in Illinois, and that the law would, through incapacity or disagreement, be inoperative. Well, now, if there are three experienced teachers in Illinois who could not, during the next summer vacation, draft a better series of school-books than any, and better series than all of those now in use in Chicago, for instance, they would deserve to be kicked across the big bridge and compelled to spend the rest of their days in the deplorable state of Missouri. If enterprising publishers can do no better than this, is it not time for the state to take hold and lift us out of this slough of extraordinarily defective and exorbitantly expensive text-books?

It may be said that it is not good public policy to have the state compete with private enterprise, and that the publishers already in the field have vested rights. The same line of argument would prevent penitentiary convicts from working at any useful trade, and preclude the suppression of robbers on the highway.

School-book publishers have plucked the people long enough. The day of their almost total extinction is not so remote as they proudly imagine. How can they afford to buy legislatures and city school-boards? How do they manage to support so many expensive agents? How do they afford to pay such enormous sums for advertising? How does each firm manage to retire a set of partners every few years? The sums represented by these measures should remain in the pockets of the people of the state, and may so remain if Mr. Bower's bill becomes a law and its provisions are judiciously carried out. Then, teachers of Illinois, in the name of independence of publishers, of immunity from their bores of agents, and cheap and uniform text-books, let us "haste to the Bower."

THE ROUTLEDGE SILVER CELEBRATION.

It was just twenty-five years ago, April 20th, 1854, that Mr. George Routledge, with Mr. Jos. L. Blamire, long known as the manager of the American branch house of Geo. Routledge & Sons, arrived in New York with the purpose of establishing this branch, which has since attained such considerable proportions. Those connected with this establishment joined in doing honor to the occasion by a "silver celebration," which took the shape of a pleasant dinner at Sutherland's. Mr. Jos. L. Blamire, as chairman, and Mr. Henry M. Reed, the widely popular representative of the house with the trade, as vice-chairman, were supported by Messrs. George L. Beeston, Patrick Keenan, John A. McQuillan, John Moss, Charles H. Pierson, James J. Potter, Henry Richardson, Otto Stucke, Marcus Woodle, as the committee.

The rest of the story is told in the clever bill of fare, which we reproduce entire as a capital "humor of the trade." It is Mr. Marcus Woodle, we understand, who is responsible for this trade "Pinafore." He is certainly entitled to the nomination for poet laureate of the trade.

"Then fill the bowl—away with gloom!
Our joys shall always last;
For hope shall brighten days to come,
And memory gild the past."—Moore.

CHORUS.

Oh! I'm the manager of the firm,
I've been here many a term,
I see that none his duty shirks,
And we are his salesmen, and his porters, and his clerks,
And we are his salesmen, and his porters, and his clerks,

For he is a Routledgeman,
For he himself has said it;
And it's greatly to his credit
That he is a Routledgeman,
That he is a Routledgeman.
For he might have been a Harper,
A Scribner or a Carter,
Or perhaps an Apple-tan,
Or perhaps an Apple-tan.
But in spite of all temptations
To sell other publications,
He remains a Routledgeman,
He remains a Routledgeman.

We're the travellers of the store,
We wear clothes without a flaw,
At the best hotels we display our works,
And we bother all the buyers, and the salesmen, and the clerks,
And we bother all the buyers, and the salesmen, and the clerks,
And especially the buyers,
Who call us awful liars,
And the clerks.

Or surely you'll grow double.
Up! up! my friend, and clear your looks;
Why all this toil and trouble?"—Wordsworth.

CHORUS.

They made me a Book-keeper—poor little Book-keeper,
Though I could never tell why;
But still I'm a Book-keeper—dear little Book-keeper, Sweet little Book-keeper I.
I use ink and paper, and sometimes the scraper
To obliterate some ugly blot.
Mistakes I make never—What?—Well, hardly ever,
So few they are readily forgot.
So drink to your Book-keeper—dear little Book-keeper,
Drink, drink, for I am mighty dry.

CHORUS.

We ship the boxes through;
And our gallant truck's a beauty—
We're packers good and true,
And attentive to our duty.
When the orders arrive, we look alive,
And pack the books all day.
When there's no morning mail, and the orders fail,
We've plenty of time to play.

Here's to the widow of fifty;
Here's to the flaunting, extravagant quean,
Here's to the housewife that's thrifty.
Let the toast pass,
Drink to the lass,
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass."
—Sheridan.

THE STANLEY COPYRIGHT SUITS.

In most of the copyright suits brought by Harper & Bros. in the matter of Stanley's "Through the Dark Continent," the cases have been withdrawn on satisfactory assurances that the Canadian piracy would not thereafter be sold. Injunctions have been obtained against other parties in the U. S. Circuit Courts for Massachusetts and Illinois, and in the Detroit case Judge Brown has rendered a decree in the U. S. Circuit Court against D. P.
Work, permitting Harper & Bros. to recover all profits that have arisen from the sale of the work, and enjoining the defendant from purchasing or selling any more copies of the Canadian edition.

PERSONAL MENTION.

MR. DALDY, of Daldy, Isbister & Co., is in this country.

MR. A. L. BANCROFT, of A. L. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco, is coming East, and will remain in New York until June 1st. His headquarters will be at D. Appleton & Co.'s, where he will be pleased to see his friends.

POSTAL MATTERS.

THE SENATE AND THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

THE Senate has this week received from Postmaster-General Key a response to the resolution by which, on motion of Mr. Voorhes, the week previous, he was "directed to furnish his reason for barring the Citizen Soldier, a newspaper published in Washington City, from transmission through the mails at the same rates of postage accorded to other newspapers; and further, to state why he admits to the mails at pound rates of postage one journal, and excludes another of the same class from like privilege, furnishing with this statement the names of such newspapers as have heretofore enjoyed these rates of postage but are now denied them through recent rulings of his department." The Postmaster-General, after quoting these terms of the resolution, proceeds to say:

"In response thereto, I have the honor to submit that, while it is competent for that honorable body (the Senate) to call upon this department for any information that may be of service to the legislative branch of the government in matters of legislation, it is respectfully insisted that it is not within the just province of the legislative branch to direct an executive officer of the government to furnish his reasons for the performance of a duty devolved upon him by law.
I have taken the liberty, however, of supposing that it was not the intention of the Senate to direct me to furnish a reason for an administrative act of this department, but rather to furnish such information relating to the subject-matter of the resolution as will be of service to that body in the enactment of such laws as may be deemed expedient and necessary.
Entertaining this view of the object of the resolution, I have the honor to inform the Senate that the records of this department show that a paper published in the city of Washington, styled the Citizen Soldier, was referred to this department by the postmaster at said city, with an inquiry as to the rate of postage properly chargeable thereon. Upon a reference of said inquiry to the Assistant Attorney-General for this department, it was held that said paper was a 'regular publication, designed primarily for advertising purposes,' within the meaning of Section 15 of the Act of July 12th, 1876, and, therefore, chargeable with postage at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. The opinion of the Assistant Attorney-General was approved by me, and the postmaster advised accordingly. Subsequently, viz., on the 25th of March, 1879, at the urgent request of the proprietors of the paper in question, the ruling in this case, together with the whole subject-matter of the proper construction of said act, was referred to the Attorney-General, where it is now pending, awaiting his consideration.

"Replying to the second branch of the Senator's inquiry, I have the honor to say that no such discrimination as is intimated therein is made by this department. The only knowledge which this department has of what publications are transmitted in the mails at the rates fixed by Section 5 of the Act of June 23d, 1874, and those prescribed by Section 15 of the Act of July 12th, 1876, is that furnished by an occasional reference by the postmaster at the office of mailing in a doubtful case, and the ruling made by the department thereon. Such cases, however, are isolated ones, the determination of the status of all publications offered for mailing, under the two acts referred to, resting, in the first instance, with the local postmaster. Should the Senate desire the names of such publications as have been determined to be of the one class or the other, on an appeal to this department, they will be furnished upon an intimation of such a desire.

"Very respectfully, D. M. KEY, Postmaster-General.

"To the President of the Senate."

PUBLICATIONS FOR ADVERTISING PURPOSES.

THE Attorney-General has affirmed the decision of the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-Office Department that "regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes" cannot be sent through the mails at the rates charged legitimate newspapers. He holds that a paper may be originated and published for the dissemination of information of a public character, have a legitimate list of subscribers, and yet be designed primarily for "advertising purposes" within the meaning of the law; that the term relates to a paper the principal object of which is to advertise the business of the owner. That a publication may have all the characteristics of a legitimate newspaper entitled to the pound rates of postage, yet if it appears from the columns of the paper itself or from other satisfactory evidence that the primary or principal object of the paper is to advertise the business of the editor or proprietor, it falls within the class denominated "regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes."

AUTHORS AT WORK.

GEORGE H. GORDON is preparing a history of Pope's campaign.

MR. J. BRANDER MATTHEWS, the writer of the article on "Molière, the Life and the Legend," in Lippincott's for April, is at work on a full biography of the great French dramatist.

MRS. WISTER is translating from the German Marlitt's latest novel, entitled "In the Schillingcourt." The trade should bear this well in mind, for Mrs. Wister's translations are among the best selling novels published.

MR. GEORGE MEREDITH, an English writer, will bring out before long a new novel styled "The Egoist, a Comedy in Narrative." The work is in some degree an experiment, as it is a deviation from our later realism, and its point of view is the comic, in the higher sense of the word, instead of the sentimental.

THE announcement is made of a new novel by Henry Gréville (Madame Durand), entitled "Cité Ménard," and now being translated into English, in Paris, under the title of "Menard Alley," by Miss Helen Stanley, from the author's advance sheets. The purpose of this book is said to be to represent the virtues of the common people of France, as that of M. Zola seems to be to represent their vices, and from this point of view it bids fair to be an agreeable change.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—A. W. Lovering, the gift-bookseller of Boston, has moved from his "archway store," under the old Marlboro' Hotel (which is being torn down), to No. 336 Washington Street, where pianos, gold watches, and other luxuries too numerous to mention are daily given to his customers.

CLEVELAND, O.—Stephen E. Brooks and Arthur S. Brooks, late of Brooks, Schinkel & Co., succeed S. E. Brooks in the stationery business at the old stand, 117 Superior Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—F. W. Christern has removed from his old quarters in University Place to a very handsome store at 180 Fifth Avenue.

NEW YORK CITY.—Ward & Drummond will move in a few days to their new store, 116 Nassau Street.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA.—Mr. A. D. Lundy succeeds to the well-known firm of Ayers & Lundy. "Capt." J. J. Ayers, having grown old, retires from business altogether.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

J. M. STODDART & Co. have nearly ready volume nine of their reprint of the "Encyclopædia Britannica."

WARD & DRUMMOND (successors to U. D. Ward) have just put to press the second edition of the "Star Book for Ministers," by Rev. E. T. Hiscox, D.D.

MR. F. W. CHRISTERN has received the third series of Alexander Dumas, Jr.'s, "Entr'Actes." This includes the famous "Homme-femme" papers.

THE interesting novel of Hassaurek, "Secret of the Andes," meeting with great success, is being translated into German, and will soon be published by Robert Clarke & Co.

MR. WM. BLAICKIE's new book, "How to Get Strong, and How to Stay So," is nearly ready at the Harpers', and a volume of "Recreations in Astronomy," by the Rev. H. W. Warren, D.D., with illustrations, is in press.

A NEW Cedarcroft edition of Bayard Taylor's novels, 5 vols. in box at $1.25 each, in a neat cover of tinted board, with design in red and black, is in preparation at G. P. Putnam's Sons—a happy idea for summer trade.

LOCKWOOD BROOKS & Co. have in press a metrical translation of Virgil's "Æneid," by Lieut.-Gov. John D. Long, of Massachusetts, which has been read in manuscript by some very competent critics, whose verdict is exceedingly favorable.

LEE & SHEPARD will bring out in a few days "Zophiel," the poem referred to frequently in this column; No. 6 of Geo. M. Baker's "Reading Club," an excellent collection of short stories, sketches, and poems; and a small book on "Head Dress," in which at least half of mankind is interested.

A NEW volume of sermons by Rev. M. J. Savage, of Boston, is now in course of preparation for early publication by Lockwood, Brooks & Co. Mr. Savage is a thoughtful, radical preacher, who has the habit (said not to be absolutely universal) of saying in the pulpit just what he thinks in his study.

"THE Ghost of Redbrook," a new novel, by the author of "The Clifton Picture," "The Lacy Diamonds," "Odd Trump," etc., is announced by J. B. Lippincott & Co. His former works have been spoken of as fresh, free, healthy, unconventional, and well written, and with a purity of style that is refreshing.

It is as well to be accurate even in small things, and we apologize to our readers for two errors carelessly allowed to slip into a recent issue. The letters of Arsène Houssaye were originally published by Mr. Gill, not by Mr. Lovell, and the English publishers of Stanley's "Through the Dark Continent" are of course not Longmans & Co., but the Low house.

D. APPLETON & Co. are doing a good thing in putting into neat cloth binding, at a very low price, the more permanent issues of their popular New Handy Volumes. The "Ruskin," to be presently published, will be issued in this style as well as in paper, and with it the already published "Carlyle," and the volumes on the Composers have been similarly treated.

A TRANSLATION of Prof. Haeckel's latest contribution to the scientific war now raging in Germany, "Free Science and Free Teaching," will be published by D. Appleton & Co. They have also in preparation his work on "The Evolution of Man: a Popular Exposition of the Principal Points of Human Ontogeny and Philogeny," with colored plates and numerous engravings on wood.

MR. J. N. OGILVIE, for ten years with the National Temperance Society, is about to start, at No. 29 Rose Street, New York, the American Temperance Publishing House, and has already in press "The American Temperance Speaker, No. 1," and three lectures by John B. Gough. He will also keep in stock the temperance issues of other publishers and run a few miscellaneous lines.

D. LOTHROP & Co. have just issued "My Daughter Susan," one of "Pansy's" pleasant stories; and will shortly publish "Yensie Walton," a religious story, by Mrs. S. R. Graham Clark; "Poor Papa," by Mary W. Porter; and "Six Months at Mrs. Prior's," by Emily Adams. These stories are all illustrated, and appeal to those who find entertainment and instruction in the books published by this house.

MACMILLAN & Co. have just received the first part of one of the most important enterprises of scholarship of the day—in Skeat's "Etymological Dictionary," which appears in the Clarendon Press Series. This is the product of the most thorough learning and the most advanced scholarship, and will take rank as the standard book of reference. There will be four parts, at the moderate price of $2.50 each.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. will shortly reprint Rawlinson's great work on "The Five Great Monarchies of the Ancient World;" and also the "Lusiad" by Camoens, translated by R. F. Duff, of which the Athenæum spoke so highly. They have in press in addition "A Guide to the Popular Terms in Science and Art," by C. Bankes Brookes, and "Tales of Old-Thule," collected and copiously illustrated by J. Moyr Smith.

MESSRS. SPON have in press a work on "The Electric Light in its Practical Applications," by Dr. Paget Higgs; "A Collection of Decimal Tables of Weights, Measures, etc.," to serve as an appendix to Molesworth's "Pocket-book of Engineering Formulæ;" a book "On Steel, its History, Manufacture, and Uses," by J. S. Jeans, Secretary of the British Iron and Steel Institute; and another on "Corliss Engines and Allied Steam Motors," by W. H. Uhland, translated by A. Tolhausen, C.E.

AMONG those who suffered in the destructive fire which occurred in Philadelphia on Sunday, April 6th, at Fourth and Rose streets, were Ignatius Kohler, German bookseller and importer, whose loss is estimated at $50,000, with about $25,000 insurance; Messrs. A. W. Stuart & Sons, booksellers and printers, loss $11,000, covered by insurance; and Messrs. Boericke & Tafel, the homœopathic book publishers, who lost quite heavily on stock that was stored in that vicinity. The fire was the most severe that has visited Philadelphia for a long time. The locality seems to be unfortunate, it being the third time within a few years that it has been burnt, and all were large fires.

MR. HENRY KIDDLE, the well-known Superintendent of the New York City schools, has prepared a book, nearly ready at the Authors' Publishing Co.'s, which will be received as very extraordinary, coming from the source it does. This is a volume entitled "Spiritual Communications," and claiming to present "a revelation of the future life, illustrating and confirming the fundamental doctrines of the Christian faith," "affording a proof of the truth of Christ's mission and doctrines more conclusive than has ever been given since the age of the Apostles." The author believes these to be authentic communications from the eternal world, a belief arising from his investigations into psychological phenomena.

AN exceptionally interesting announcement is made by J. B. Lippincott & Co. in "The Reader's Handbook," by E. Cobham Brewer, LL.D., author of the "Dictionary of Phrase and Fable." Much criticism has been written upon the present tendency to abridge and condense; but what will the critics say when they take up "The Reader's Handbook" and find the stories of Homer's "Illiad" and "Odyssey," Virgil's "Æneid," Dante's "Divine Comedy," Milton's "Paradise Lost and Regained," "The Nibelungen Lied," the "Lusiad" of Camoens, with the story poems of Chaucer, Spenser, Tennyson, Longfellow, Scott, Byron, etc., etc., told in a few lines? The object of the work is to supply readers and speakers with a lucid but very brief account of such names as are used in allusion and references, whether by poets or prose writers, to furnish those who consult it with the plot of popular dramas, the story of epic poems, and the outline of the well-known tales. Who has not asked what such and such a book is about? and who would not be glad to have his question answered correctly in a few words? This gives the purpose of the work, and it will be a valuable assistant to the trade as well as to the public. It will be a 12mo of about 1000 pages.

PROF. MOSES COIT TYLER, whose admirable "History of American Literature" has placed him among our leading writers, has just completed an elaborate and comprehensive "Manual of English Literature," which seems likely to supply a need long felt by advanced students in our colleges and high schools. The work is based on that of Prof. Henry Morley, of the University of London, by arrangement with him, and is thus practically the joint work of these two authors of distinction and practical teachers of long experience. Their book is intended to be broader in scope and more thorough in treatment than any other in existence; it is particularly rich in its development of fields hitherto neglected, such as literature before Chaucer, and literature between Chaucer and Queen Elizabeth. It traces for the first time the inception and growth of the several great forms of English literature, in prose and verse, from the seventh century down to the nineteenth; and in its division into periods, in its numerous tables and charts of authors, and in its grouping of materials (subordinating the minor matter in smaller type) it presents an altogether new and original view of the whole subject. Messrs. Sheldon & Co. are to publish the work in very beautiful style early in June, ready for teachers and professors who are forming their plans for the next academic year.
